Aussie Forces Invade Borneo

By LEE VAN ATTA

MANILA, June 11 (INS)—Australian amphibious forces, personally directed by Gen. MacArthur, opened the reconquest of the fabulously wealthy island of Borneo today, advancing inland after seizing four beachheads in the Brunei bay area.

Within a matter of hours after they went ashore on Labuan island, at the entrance to strategic Brunei bay, the Aussies had captured the town of Victoria and taken an enemy airfield. In addition, they were advancing on another "drome mid-way between Ngara and Brooketon.

Labuan island, 10 miles long by six miles, is 815 miles southeast of the Singapore Naval base. A special MacArthur communique revealed that the Diggers went ashore after one of the longest aerial offensives of the Southwest Pacific war.

The landing on the Borneo mainland was at Hamilton Point opposite Labuan.

Opposition was light. Three of the landings were made Sunday morning between 5 and 10 o'clock. The fourth, at Hamilton Point, came around 5 p. m.

Lt. Gen. Sir Leslie Morshead, Anzac hero of Tobruk, commanded the troops that swept ashore. MacArthur, together with air forces Gen. George C. Kenney and Rear Adm. Forrest Royal, accompanied the assault waves onto the beach.

MacArthur reported that most of the Jap land defenses had been pounded out of existence by a 60-day aerial bombardment. A warship force under command of Rear Adms. Russell Berkeley and Ralph Briggs joined this air assault recently.

Strength of the Brunei garrison is estimated at 2000 to 5000. Numerous mines were destroyed by both sea and land forces, but surprise was so complete that until a late hour Sunday there was but a single casualty on Labuan.

Brunei, until four months ago, was a major Japanese anchorage and the point from where the southern Jap battle force began the journey to its ill-fated second battle of the Philippines last October.

What It Means

Great strategic advantages for Allied air forces were in sight today with the landings on Borneo.

Airfields there would bring Gen. Kenney's Far East air force bombers and fighters within easy reach of the Jap naval bases at Singapore and Saigon in French Indo-China. Airdrome sites about 200 miles southeast of Brunei Bay would put Allied B-29s 400 miles closer to Singapore than present fields on Sarakan.

Overland Japanese supply routes in the Asiatic mainland through Indo-China also would be brought within range of our aircraft.

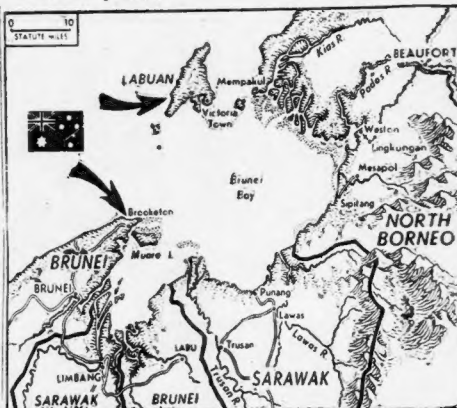

The present nearest major air base is Puerto Princesa on Palawan Island, Southern Philippines.

Borneo also will provide anchorages for our fleet units.

Petroleum engineers expect it will take some time to restore oil production in the Brunei sector, but predict that most Borneo fields may be yielding oil before the year's end.

Japs Prepare Flight From 2 Air Bases

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, June 11 (AP)—Chinese assault forces battled the Japanese within the outer defenses of Liuchow today and closed in to within 10 miles of Kweilin, 90 miles to the northeast, amid a growing belief in the Chinese capital that the enemy planned to abandon both of these former American air base cities.

The Chinese high command announced today that two prongs of a Chinese drive were advancing on Kweilin, one from the northwest and another from the west.

Other Chinese forces captured the port of Futing on the East China coast 450 miles west of Okinawa, seized the highway stronghold of Lungchow, 12 miles from Indo-China, and captured Paishou, 25 miles west of Kweilin, posing a distinct threat to that former U. S. 14th Air Force base city.

Nazis' Murder Of Babies Bared

IN GERMANY, June 10 (delayed) (AP)—Evidence was found today the Nazis starved to death the new-born babies of Russian and Polish women slave laborers in the Reich.

In the factory town of Fallersleben American Army medical men found German records and got testimony from residents showing in that area alone 350 infants died in a nursery used as the house of death.

The children, taken from mothers a few days after birth, were left unattended until they died, the evidence showed. Their bodies were then tied in bundles and wrapped in paper and handed over to a German farmer, who got 25 cents each for burying them in mass graves.

The mothers, who had been forced to return to work, were charged the burial fee, plus $4 for care in the nursery.

Lower Jap Diet O. K.'s Dictator

By Associated Press

The lower chamber of the Japanese diet today passed an amended wartime emergency bill, the Tokyo radio broadcast, giving Premier Kantaro Suzuki's government virtual authority to rule Japan by decree.

The broadcast said the House approved the measure after a six-hour delay caused when members of a House committee took exception to remarks by the Premier.

Radio Tokyo said it was believed the House of Peers would pass the bill in its revised form.

Japs Trapped In Luzon Hills

MANILA, June 11 (AP)—The U. S. 37th Infantry Division, in a swift nine-mile advance, captured the highway junction town of Bagabag in northern Luzon and punched five miles beyond towards the Cagayan Valley, isolating a large body of Japanese in the rugged mountains east of the valley.

Planes Batter Japan 4th Day

By LEIF ERICKSON

GUAM, June 11 (AP)—The Japanese homeland smoldered today from its worst week-end of the war—four consecutive days of devastating attacks by American warplanes ranging from gigantic B-29 Superfortresses to speedy Mustang and Thunderbolt fighters and Navy carrier planes.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday the Americans struck again and again, hurling high explosive bombs and bullets into Japan's aircraft factories, rail yards, airfields and other military targets in five separate raids on widespread areas.

Radio Tokyo said 30 Mustangs, led by two B-29s, fired installations at Tachikawa and Atsuki airfields in the Tokyo-Yokohama

Japs Hurl Biggest Guns At Yanks on Okinawa

By RICHARD O'MALLEY

GUAM, June 11 (AP)—Rapidly dying defenders of Okinawa brought all their remaining artillery into play today, firing at point-blank range in a thus far futile effort to stop a full-power assault launched by the U. S. 10th Army.

Guns of as heavy caliber as 165-mm. were being used by the Japs in their last stand attempt to halt the American attack on heavily fortified Yaeju-Dake escarpment. On the east flank the enemy directed fire against Seventh and 96th Division tanks.

Even in the lightly encircled Oruku pocket, Jap field guns shelled the Naha-jarbor bridge, causing some minor damage to the American-built structure.

The Seventh Regiment of the First U. S. Marine Division ran into heavy Jap machine-gun and mortar fire as it moved through Itoman town, capture of which has not yet been announced by Adm. Nimitz.

Headquarters reported the 96th U. S. Infantry Division is under fire from mutually supporting Jap positions and caves while the 17th Battalion of the Seventh Division is using flame-throwing

Steps to Tokyo

WASHINGTON, June 11 (INS)—The Army will wear out 17,500,000 pairs of boots a year on the long road to Tokyo, costing Uncle Sam about $112,000,000.

This was disclosed today by the Treasury which said, for the first time in the Pacific war, it will be possible soon to issue combat boots to all troops.

With higher tops, these boots do away with the need for leggings, cost $6.38 a pair against $4.70 for the old issue shoe, keep feet drier, warmer, and bar insects.

tanks against 88 enemy-held caves.

Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., commander of the 10th Army, replied to Jap artillery on Okinawa with virtually every weapon at his command. Flame-throwing tanks led ground charges. Aircraft rocketed, strafed and bombed enemy ground forces and their well protected gun positions.

2 Hitler Children Hunted by Allies

LONDON, June 11 (INS)—A Stockholm dispatch to the London Express said that Allied officials in Germany were searching today for a five-year-old boy and a girl of Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun.

Erik Wesslen, an attaché of the Swedish legation in Berlin, who was in close touch with the Fuehrer's headquarters, said "a number of prominent Germans declared the children were living with relatives of their mother in southern Bavaria."

Wesslen, according to the dispatch, said that during his last days of power, Hitler married his companion of many years to legitimize the children.

4 Nazi Generals Taken in Wiesbaden

WIESBADEN, Germany, June 11 (AP)—Four German generals and a number of civilians wanted by the Allies were picked up during a 24-hour period ending Sunday noon.

They included Gen. Walter Mueshoff, former chief of the welfare division of the German air force; Lt. Col. Juedrich, former chief of the German psychological warfare office; Conrad von Schubert, former observer for the foreign office in the Ukraine, and Dr. Max Rendschmitt, Berlin architect.

Petai Says He 'Saved France'

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—Marshal Petai said today he had asked an armistice as "the only way to preserve France." He told a commission questioning him in prelude to his trial the action "prevented France from becoming another Poland."

In answer to a question whether the armistice was in keeping with French obligations to Great Britain that no separate peace be made, Petai replied Prime Minister Churchill told him at Tours on June 10, 1940, "England would not abandon an unhappy ally, even if she asks for peace."

area Monday. It reported the fighters strafed the fields for an hour.

Sunday's strike was made by 250 to 300 B-29s on five factory and military targets in the already ravaged Tokyo and Yokohama districts. Reconnaissance photos showed the Hitachi Engineering Works and adjacent railway yards at Sukagawa alone were struck by 620 bombs.

Results were reported good on the other targets, although photographs were not available.

Jap antiaircraft fire was reported meager to moderate. One Superfortress was lost, but two-based Mustangs on escort duty destroyed 26 Jap interceptors and probably destroyed 10 more war, out loss.

6000 More GIs Arrive in Hub

The westward flow of American soldiers coming home from European battlefields continued today with the arrival here of two transports carrying nearly 6000 men, most of them liberated from German prison camps, including 56 New Englanders.

First arrivals, this morning, were on the transport Marine Dragon, which docked at the Army Base with soldiers from the mid-west and far west. This afternoon the Marine Devil, from which the New Englanders were to disembark, arrived at Pier 3 of the Cunard docks in East Boston.

Among the Greater Boston men returning were: TS John J. Crosby of Dorchester, Cpl. Ralph La-mattina of Boston, Cpl. Arthur F. Borges of Cambridge and S-Sgt. John T. Dickmeyer of Boston.

Of all the homecomers, none had more definite plans for furtherings than T4 George Budinsky, 26, of Steubenville, O., who proposes to go to bed as soon as possible and stay there until removed by force.

Budinsky was captured in Tunisia and spent two and one-half years in Nazi prison camps. "I do not tell whoppers," he said, "so please believe me when I say I slept with 399 other prisoners in a tent so small that when one man turned over the other 399 had to turn too."

"We tried not to turn. A man could make himself unpopular by turning often, but most of us turned at least once during the night."

"That," said Budinsky, "means each of us turned about 350 times a night." He settled back in the train taking the men to Camp Myles Standish and said:

"Excuse me now while I get in a few ticks of shut-eye."

High Court Voids Bund Convictions

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Supreme Court today reversed the convictions of 24 top officials of the German-American Bund on charges of conspiring to advise evasion and resistance to the Selective Service Act.

The officials, including Gerhardt Wilhelm Kunze, former national leader of the bund, were convicted in the Southern New York Federal District Court. Each was sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

Justice Roberts delivered the Supreme court's 5-4 opinion. Chief Justice Stone wrote a dissent in which Justices Reed, Douglas and Jackson concurred.

The majority held the evidence produced by the government was insufficient to sustain the convictions.

All of those convicted questioned whether they had been given a fair trial "in view of the great mass of exhibits admitted in evidence having no relevancy to the issues before the court, but calculated only to inflame and prejudice a jury sitting in time of war."

Wilbur V. Keegan, former general counsel for the Bund, in a separate appeal to the high tribunal said his conviction had denied him the constitutional right to practice his profession. He contended that as an attorney he had merely advised the organization as to constitutional questions involved in the act.

In addition to Kunze and Keegan, the others involved were: August Klipprot, Gustav Elmer, Hermann Schwinn, Herman Agne, Joseph Bachmaier, Josef Belohlavsky, Carl Frederick Berg, Walter Borchers, Otto Bregler, Ernest Martin Christoph, Otto Fentzke, John C. Fitting, Bruno Knupfer, William C. Kunz, William Ottersbach, Max Rapp, Louis Schatz, Walter Schneider Jr., Hugo Weiss, Karl Richard Wendlandt, Otto Willumeit and Fritz Streuer.

Suffolk Downs was jammed to capacity today by throngs of socialites, servicemen and just plain horse-players for the opening of the 1945 racing season in Massachusetts.

Senator Asks Bowles to Quit

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—As Senate debate opened on the question of continuing the price control program for another year, Senator Morse (R.) of Oregon read a letter to Price Administrator Chester Bowles advising him that it "would be in the public interest for you to resign."

Senator Chavez (D.) of New Mexico rose to say other Congressional invitations to administrative officers to resign never have been heeded.

"The only way to get rid of them is to fire them or stop their appropriations," Chavez declared. Morse charged OPA under Bowles with causing agricultural processors "costly losses through stupid mistakes."

Health Peril Seen In Essex Refuge

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Arthur D. Weston, a Massachusetts Health Department engineer declared today the establishment of a wildfire refuge in Essex County, Mass., might result in a "menace to public health."

He testified at a meeting of Massachusetts members of Congress, state officials and representatives of sportsmen's organizations.

Weston said if the project is put through it could bring about an increase in mosquito breeding and spread malaria.

Sen. Saltonstall urged the delegation to present to Ickes "a factual case." He said Ickes should be told that persons who have already received money for the land taken for the Essex County project are willing to return it.

The grandstand and clubhouse were filled before the horses went to the post for the first race and the overflow surged out on the grandstand and clubhouse lawns. The parking area was black with cars. Additional thousands went to the track by street car.

Although the sun played hide and seek, most of the women dared the threat of rain to blossom out in their best togs and gave racegoers the annual style show marking Suffolk's opening day.

About 200 persons were guests of President Allan Wilson at a Paddock Club luncheon before the races. Wilson was accompanied by Mrs. George Wilson, wife of his son, who is with the armed forces in Germany.

Gov. Tobin arrived after the luncheon started and stayed to present a silver plate to the winner of the inaugural feature, the Governor's Handicap. Gov. J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island and Judge James Dooley, head of Narragansett, also were guests, as were R. Adm. Felix Gyagax of the First Naval District, and Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles of the First Service Command.

Sprinkled through the crowd were numerous youths in the uniforms of the Army, Navy or Marines. Many of these veterans were on crutches or carried canes.

War Ace Gabreski Weds on Third Try

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., June 11 (AP)—The wedding which twice was interrupted by the war, once in the Pacific and once in Europe, was solemnized today in the attempt to add to his bag of 28 enemy planes.

But even then the wedding gown's secret had been well kept and no one, not even the bridegroom knew what the bride would wear when she came down the aisle.

The pair's first plans to wed were made in Hawaii, where Miss Cochran lived with her aunt and Gabreski was stationed. Japan's assault substituted zeroes for the date and the waiting began.

Biddle Reveals How Reds Evade U. S. Agent Law

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN

WASHINGTON, June 11 (INS)—Atty-Gen. Biddle told Congress today Russia has circumvented the foreign agents registration law in the distribution of propaganda in the United States. Biddle, who retires as Attorney-General this month, made his charge in an official 560-page report on administration of law by the Justice Department.

He found "the trend toward centralization of government-sponsored propaganda marks a significant assumption of responsibility on the part of foreign governments for the materials and ideas they have chosen to present to the American public," but added:

"An exception to this trend is the Soviet Union, which does not maintain an official information agency but conducts parallel activities by other means in large part not subject to the act.

"The Soviet Embassy prints and widely distributes a monthly bulletin. The Soviet information bureau in Moscow transmits articles and news releases by cables and radio to the American press, and the All-Union Society for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries (Voks) send publication and exhibit materials directly to individuals and organizations in the United States; and Soviet films, photographs, books, and other printed materials are distributed mainly through agencies operating along commercial lines.

"The commercial agencies only are registered," Biddle reported in the two and half years period ended Dec. 31, 1944, registration statements were filed by 227 organizations and 281 individuals. More than half of organizations and individuals were found to be participating in informational or propaganda activities in the United States—the most important being official information centers of 18 foreign governments and the United Nations.

FILMARITAL BUST-UP—Mrs. William Cagney, wife of the Hollywood film producer, has announced she will sue for divorce on grounds of incompatibility. Cagney, brother of James Cagney, and the former Boots Mallory have been married 11 years. She was a former Ziegfeld girl.

The campaign is under way with an immediate program of supporting continued lend-lease to Russia, now that her war in Europe is over; strengthening ties with the White House, and indoctrinating servicemen and returning veterans with the Marxist viewpoint.

Carefully blueprinted in New York City by Earl Browder and other American Soviets, the program was revealed before 200 Hollywood and Los Angeles Communist sympathizers, many of whom occupy high places in the motion picture industry here.

Those who attended were told by Joseph Foster, Hollywood film critic for a Red weekly, that "at the right time" Russia would enter the war against Japan, "but not out of altruism."

"The Soviet Union has a big stake in the Pacific—more so in China," he explained, "and the Soviet Union will be in there to dictate the peace."

It had earlier been explained to the audience that part of this plan was to induce President Truman to aid in the rupture of United States relations with "the China of Chiang Kai-Shek."

"A continued strong, reactionary government under the leadership of Chiang Kai-Shek is opposed to our policy of ultimately Sovietizing all of Asia," the speaker added. "We are strong in North China now. We must exert our power throughout that nation."

Spokesman for the party leaders in the East was Bruce Minton, associate editor of New Masses, a Red weekly that is nationally distributed, and who, with his wife, Ruth McKinney, a writer for the same magazine, is one of the Marxist doctrines' most fiery advocates.

Berating Secretary of State Stettinius, Senator Vandenberg and other members of the American delegation to the San Francisco peace conference as "betrayers of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's great dream of a permanent alliance with Soviet Russia," Minton told his audience that "our salvation rests upon a close tie with Truman and the support of all members of our armed forces."

"We must infiltrate the ranks of these servicemen—the veterans returning from the wars and the neophytes yet to be called into action," he told listeners. "The thousands of pretty young girls in the Communist youth movement must volunteer as hostesses in USO canteens, churches, social groups—wherever these soldiers, sailors and Marines seek recreation and are prone to listen to a persuasive voice."

"When President Truman assumed the high office vacated by FDR almost two months ago members of our group all over the world looked on this act of fate with grim foreboding, for we saw the Yalta Conference and all it promised for Russia totally crumble," he added, "but events in the past few weeks have taken a turn for the better. The way looks promising and our outlook again is hopeful."

"Truman's actions in delegating former Ambassador to Russia Joseph E. Davies to represent us at the Court of St. James and his selection of Harry Hopkins as a special emissary to the Soviet Union, promise great things. These men, throughout FDR's 12 years in the White House, unquestioningly supported the New Deal in spite of everything and everyone."

"Through our actions Truman can be won over. We can once again hope for closer and firmer ties with the White House."

William Gropper, New Masses cartoonist, in whose honor the meeting was held, later told the 200 well-groomed members of the audience that his magazine had sponsored a "round robin letter" signed by thousands of Communist sympathizers and members all over the nation, petitioning President Truman to continue lend-lease aid to Russia indefinitely despite the fact the Soviets have "temporarily put down their arms."

"Nothing must be done by any of us to arouse the people of this country to protest against a continuance of lend-lease to the Soviet Union," he continued.

Ruth McKinney, Minton's wife and a correspondent and short story writer for New Masses, told the audience how closely Molotov and the entire Soviet delegation to the conference had worked with American Communists in San Francisco.

"Why, the entire American press was told that Molotov was living in a suite at the St. Francis Hotel," he added, "but all the while he had taken over a house on Nob Hill owned by my husband's cousin, so he could conduct his affairs without press interference."

"Molotov appeared in the luxurious red and gold appointed suite at the St. Francis when it was necessary to be seen there."

Miss McKinney then explained that the Communist party arrived at its plan of indoctrinating American servicemen when hundreds of crippled veterans—guests of the San Francisco conference at Opera House sessions—"plainly demonstrated they were opposed to Russia and were blinded by the propaganda of anti-Soviet groups in this country."

"Those boys must be won over. If it is too late to win the veterans in our hospitals then we must enlist those who have not as yet gone overseas and those who are yet to return here," she concluded.

"And while we are on the subject of our future program, it might as well be stated now that Communism has outgrown New York as its headquarters. Henceforth our activities will evolve in Hollywood, where the prestige, influence and support of our comrades in the film industry will strengthen our ranks and carry our fight to people from every walk of life."

Gropper revealed to the audience how he, Mrs. McKinney and her husband had attended all important press conferences and two weeks of conference sessions at the Opera House as accredited members of the working press through "credentials secured by some of our influential friends."

Before the meeting closed the audience contributed $657 to the New Masses program in addition to paying a dollar a person admission.

3d, 7th Armies Stay in Europe

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—The Army newspaper Stars and Stripes said today the U. S. Third and Seventh Armies would occupy American zones in Germany, making Lt. Gen. Leonard Gerow's 15th Army "available for a possible shift to the Pacific."

The newspaper, in a dispatch from Wiesbaden, Germany, said this did not mean troops serving in the Third and Seventh were destined for occupation duty, necessarily. It pointed out that redeployment was bringing about almost complete revampment of personnel.

The U. S. First Army already is headed for the Pacific and the Ninth will halt operations in Germany next Friday.

Sees Overtime Tough on Cafes

Protesting proposals to introduce federal wage and hour laws into the state, John W. Stokes, president of the Massachusetts Restaurant Ass'n, declared today the restrictions would "make it tougher" for war veterans to go into business as cafe owners.

In a letter to state legislators, Stokes said the proponents "are making a mistake in attempting to apply the factory tempo to the restaurant business."

Opposing the provision requiring payment of time and a half after 44 hours, he said restaurants worked longer hours "since we must accommodate ourselves to the public's eating habits."

Coal Shortage In Schools Seen

Warning that Boston schools faced a coal shortage next winter, the Boston Finance Commission urged the school committee today to establish a training program for operators of school heating plants and install stoker equipment wherever possible.

The commission said the committee's invitation to dealers to supply fuel for the next winter had gone virtually unheeded.

"In the case of the largest supplier of last year," it said, "there is no doubt the principal reason for refusal to bid was that about $100,000 of payment for coal delivered and consumed has been withheld."

At the present time the supply of only two of nine Euston school districts has been contracted for, assuring the committee of only 4545 of the 35,000 tons needed.

Framingham Nurse, Soldier on Paris Honeymoon

PARIS (INS) (Delayed)—Honeymooning in France today after a unique wedding ceremony in a tiny French village near the "Lucky Strike" R. A. M. P. camp were Lt. Donald Wafur of Syracuse, N. Y., and the former Lt. Olga Cassiolini of Framingham, Mass.

Lt. Cassiolini is an Army nurse. Their romance started in England three years ago when both were stationed there. The R. A. M. P. camp is for repatriated American military personnel, and the bridegroom is one of the thousands of liberated Americans.

The wedding was perhaps the first in which an R. A. M. P. member was a participant.

The ceremony followed frantic efforts on the part of the prospective bride and bridegroom to find each other after word of Wafur's release reached Lt. Cassiolini at Nancy, where she was stationed. She found her mate after four days of search.

Meat Holiday Threat Spreads to Providence

Unless the meat shortage is quickly relieved, approximately 25,000 textile workers at New Bedford and Providence, R. I., will go on a "meat holiday," their union leaders declared today.

Because of the popularity of the stars appearing in this performance—a memorial to the valiant dead and a tribute to the living of Bataan—the demand for tickets is expected to be exceptionally heavy. All are advised to obtain tickets as soon as possible from the box office at the Garden. Tickets are priced at $1, $2, and $3 plus tax.

The show has a two-fold purpose—a salute to "Back to Bataan," epic film story of the Philippine guerrillas so loyal to American troops and civilians during the deadly Jap occupation, and a project to raise funds for a downtown civic center for servicemen's wives and mothers.

A delegation of movie stars, making trip East from Hollywood, will also appear on the great show. Their names will be announced in these papers later in week.

The show, to be held on the eve of the world premiere of RKO's "Back to Bataan," at Boston's Keith Memorial Theater, will have Cantor as master of ceremonies. And Eddie will bring along his entire radio show, including Leonard Sues, one of the nation's greatest trumpeters; Nora Martin, Bea Walker and Fred Martel, vocalist.

For extra measure of entertainment there will be the noted maestro, Benny Goodman, who will be starred at the RKO-Boston Theater that week and will bring his entire cast to the Garden for the "Salute" show.

Among those who will bring to the audience the significance of the heroes of Bataan will be Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, commissioner of the Commonwealth of the Philippines to the United States.

It was Gen. Romulo who was responsible for bringing to Boston the first showing of "Back to Bataan," the tragic and heroic story of the three bleak years when he and his fellow Filipinos fought the Jap invader from hills and cliffs and underground hideouts while awaiting the return which Gen. MacArthur promised and achieved.

Prisoners freed from grim Jap concentration camps will be guests of honor at the Garden show including Maj. John J. Dugan, S. J., now post chaplain at Cushing General Hospital in Framingham; Maj. Vaughan A. Shaw of Ft. Devens; Capt. John W. Temple of Pittsfield and Capt. Francis M. Lummie of Concord, Vt.

Gov. Tobin and Mayor Kerrigan will be present to give official welcome of state and city to the audience. There will be scores of stars of night clubs currently playing in Boston.

Indian Says He Can Solve N. Y. Langford Killing

NEW YORK, June 11 (INS)—Robert Redwing, an Indian chief whose name has been mentioned frequently in the mysterious "murder on Park ave." case, came to New York today with the declaration he can solve the slaying within 10 days.

Redwing returned to Manhattan from Washington, prepared to unfold his bizarre story of how the slain Albert E. Langford met, courted and married Mrs. Robert H. Grimes. Langford, wealthy leather executive, was killed last Monday evening by two men in the door of his luxurious Park ave. apartment.

"I have not seen Mr. or Mrs. Langford in two years but I have a definite idea who the killer might be," the 43-year-old Cherokee Indian was quoted as saying.

Redwing entered the lengthy list of characters surrounding the case when Reed Lawton, a singing protégé of Mrs. Langford, disclosed "a baroness and an Indian chief helped groom Langford for the marriage three years ago."

Lawton claimed "Langford promised to pay the baroness $25,000 for arranging the wedding." He stated also that, "according to the baroness, he reneged."

The Indian also substantiated Lawton's contention Langford and the baroness were "going together" prior to his wedding to the wealthy Mrs. Grimes.

Youth Is Held In Cop Slashing

Released from City Hospital, Salvatore Viola, 18, Bennington st., East Boston, was booked today on a charge of assault with intent to murder a police officer in connection with the East Boston carnival riot in which Francis L. Ricci, 14, was shot and killed accidentally.

At the same time another suspect in the riot, Vincent Passariello, 17, Bennington st., East Boston, pleaded not guilty in East Boston District Court to a charge of being an accessory after the fact and was held in $5000 for hearing June 21.

Viola is charged by police with the actual slashing of the police officer's arm, which, they said, resulted in the discharge of Hamlet's gun and the fatal shooting of the Ricci boy, an innocent bystander.

Funeral services for the Ricci boy, an honor student of Boston Latin School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Silvio Ricci of Leyden st., East Boston, are scheduled for tomorrow, with solemn requiem mass at St. Lazarus' Church at 9:30 a. m. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Children Need Foster Homes

Gov. Tobin said today 2000 foster homes were needed within the next few weeks for homeless children in this State.

The Governor's statement was issued in support of the "share your home with a child campaign" opened by the Massachusetts Child Council in co-operation with public and private child-placing agencies.

Many of the children are sons and daughters of servicemen who died in action. The children were in need of temporary homes pending family readjustments.

3 Men, Dog Free In 'Limey' Case

Four material witnesses, one a dog, were ordered released by Judge Nelson P. Brown in Suffolk Superior Court today as the result of pleas of guilty to second-degree murder of Mrs. Mary I. "Belle" Hanson last week by John L. "Limey" Wilson and Francis J. Murray.

The pair, already serving life terms for the second-degree murder of Mrs. Catherine McKinley, aged Charlestown widow, were given concurrent life sentences.

One witness freed today was Dominic L. Baldinelli of the West End, held in $10,000 since April 21, 1944. Payments of $250 daily to him cost the county $1040.

The dog, Blackie, a pet of the slain woman, had been with her the night she was slain in February, 1944.

Judge Brown ordered Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward M. Sullivan to reach an agreement with the Animal Rescue League for the dog's keep.

Also released were Roderick O'Hearn, 49, of Shawmut ave., South End, held since Feb. 23 at a cost of $275.50, and Charles F. Blasser, held since May 27 at a cost of $37.50.

Chicopee Man Held In Wife's Murder

CHICOPEE, June 11—Peter J. Polchlopek, 40, of McKinley ave., was held without bail for the grand jury in district court today, charged with the first-degree murder of his wife, Sadie, also 40, May 15.

Mrs. Polchlopek was found dead in their automobile which had been parked in an isolated Chicopee Falls road.

Her Patriotism Frees Sailor

Miss Ann Gailbraith, a guest at the Continental Hotel, Cambridge, decided it would be unpatriotic to prosecute a sailor today—which was a break for Seamon Ralph L. Jones, 23, of Dover, N. H., who had lifted her watch and bracelet.

Jones pleaded guilty in East Cambridge district court to breaking and entering and larceny. Police told Judge Stone Miss Gailbraith had surprised Jones yesterday in an act of stealing her jewelry from her hotel room. Police arrested him later at the bar downstairs. They recovered the watch and bracelet, valued at $75.

Miss Gailbraith told the court she was satisfied with getting her trinkets back and most certainly would not press any charge. Judge Stone dismissed the case and Jones was turned over to the Shore Patrol.

Robot's New Job

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., June 11 (INS)—A mechanical head that breathes and can smoke, too—if cigarettes are available—is being substituted for humans in testing oxygen masks worn by fliers at high altitudes.

This weird marvel of science, built by General Electric Co., has just been placed in operation at the aero-medical laboratory of the Air Technical Service Command, Wright Field, Dayton, O.

The mechanical head, built lifesize, replaces volunteers who were forced to sit in cold chambers at temperatures 40 to 60 degrees below zero to test oxygen masks and check on ice conditions resulting from breath moisture.

Father Drowns 5 And Self in Auto

BRYAN, O., June 11 (AP)—Coroner C. Paul Waid returned a suicide-homicide verdict in the deaths of Alfred Stoner and his five children whose bodies were removed from a water-filled gravel pit.

Waid reported that the 38-year-old father, who received a medical discharge from the Army two weeks ago, plunged the family automobile into the pit after Mrs. Stoner gave birth to a sixth child.

Credit Hopkins With New Pact On Poland

MOSCOW, June 11 (AP)—Foreign diplomats said today they understood news on the Polish question which would be welcomed in all Allied capitals would be forthcoming soon.

Foreign observers here said they had noted a "considerable improvement" in the atmosphere of Russian-American relations growing out of Harry L. Hopkins' visit.

(Hopkins left Paris by plane today to report to President Truman. It was speculated in the French capital that he was taking back plans for a Big Three meeting. Russians got their first reports of the possibility of a Big Three meeting in a story by Tass from Paris. This quoted Perinax, the pen name of Andre Geraud, who writes from Washington. It quoted Perinax as saying most of the Polish recent interest on charges of diversion behind the Red army lines had been released.

(The arrests apparently have delayed negotiations for formation of the new government which the Big Three at Yalta agreed would be organized.)

Bridges Says Hopkins Won Nothing in Moscow

WASHINGTON, June 11 (INS)—Sen. H. Styles Bridges (R.) of New Hampshire told the Senate today Harry Hopkins won nothing at all in his Moscow conferences. Bridges called optimistic statements from San Francisco "misleading."

The Big Five's rights to veto of the use of force and of investigation of threatening world situations still stand, Bridges said. The White House announced earlier that Hopkins would return to Washington tomorrow.

Russia, Bridges said, played a smart horse-trading game by raising a third point for bargaining purposes and yielding only on that one.

"Hopkins obtained in Moscow only and exclusively the withdrawal of the extended Russian interpretation of the veto formula," Bridges said. "But he did not obtain any change of the Russian attitude concerning the two points involved in discussion at San Francisco for the past six weeks."

Churches Reopen in Berlin

By EDDY GILMORE

BERLIN, June 10 (Delayed) (AP)—Berlin's war-scarred churches are being re-opened for Protestant, Catholic and Jewish worship with Soviet approval, Arthur Werner, 68-year-old German educator and Russian-appointed burgomaster of the city, said today.

"It is very interesting," Werner said in an interview, "that three weeks ago Col. Gen. Nikolai E. Bezarin, commandant of Berlin, told me: 'Please educate the children of this city so they will believe there is a God and have fear of God.'"

The main difficulty in returning religion to the people of Berlin appears to be the lack of places to hold services, as most of the churches were wrecked. The Nazis took refuge behind their fortress-like walls and used their tall steeples for sniping.

"We have the Red army's consent and approval," Werner explained, "I have appointed a Catholic priest, Father Bucholtz, to the town council. He is in charge of the department of religion." He is a former prisoner of the Nazis, Werner said.

Representation on the town council as head of the religious department will rotate from year to year among Catholics, Protestants and Jews, he explained.

The burgomaster estimated Berlin had 6000 Jews now and said more are returning every day.

He was more optimistic than Gen. Bezarin on the opening of schools, predicting they would be functioning this autumn. Bezarin feels that printing new textbooks—free of Goebbels' propaganda—will be such a job the opening might have to be postponed.

Powers See Global Peace Solution Near

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11 (AP)—Fresh signs that the big powers can compromise even sharp differences in the interest of peaceful co-operation sent the United Nations Conference into the home stretch today with brightened hopes for the world future.

There remains the problem of winning small nation acceptance of the veto voting formula by which the Big Five would retain control of the proposed 11-nation security council with its machinery designed to keep peace.

This is now before a conference committee, scheduled to meet today, in which Foreign Minister Herbert V. Evatt of Australia is leading a fight for restricting the veto so that, while each of the big powers would still have to agree on use of force, peaceful measures to settle disputes could be taken even over some big power objections.

Evatt charged that a lengthy interpretation of the veto vote by the great powers was "obscure, uncertain and inadequate." Sen. Tom Connally, leading the big power side of the debate, appealed for "the same spirit of unity" between the great and small nations which he said had animated the Big Five in ironing out their differences over the veto.

It was the willingness of Russia to go along with the United States and the other powers on the statement that no power could veto discussion, which cleared the atmosphere of the conference and brought predictions that the big nations would be able to work together.

This prediction has been further promoted by agreement of the big nations on plans for international trusteeships—urgently needed to speed the conference toward successful conclusion.

The most recent disturbing element has been the failure of the Anglo-American-Soviet military leaders to get together among themselves and with France on details of occupation of Germany. Effective joint control of the Reich is regarded as one of the most important factors in building a peaceful Europe.

Truman Asks 39 Billion War Fund

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—President Truman asked Congress today to provide the Army with $39,019,790,474 to finance the accelerated attack on Japan.

He transmitted the military budget for the fiscal year, beginning July 1, calling for new appropriations of $21,963,093,400, the re-appropriation of unobligated balances from prior appropriations totaling $8,818,195,574, and estimated recoveries from contract cutbacks and terminations totaling $8,238,501,500.

The total program, a White House statement said, represents a reduction from a preliminary estimate of $45,500,000,000 which was included in the regular budget submitted by President Roosevelt last January, contemplating continuance of the war on the European front.

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Jesse H. Jones, former Secretary of Commerce and Loan Administrator, called on President Truman today.

Von Kluge Suicide As Surrender Failed

By PIERRE J. HUSS

BERCHTESGADEN, June 11 (INS)—Hitler's kiss of death to several high-ranking German generals suspected of complicity in the July plot against his life stands revealed today.

The story began to unfold with the suicide by poison last August of Field Marshal von Kluge.

The facts solve the mystery of the abortive sensation which nearly came off when von Kluge's secretary arranged for the General to surrender to Patton's Third Army near Avranches last August, but was prevented by a fluke.

Von Kluge's case was a striking example of the fate of any General under Hitler who plotted the Fuehrer's end.

At the time the Allies' Falaise gap was closing on the doomed German army in August, correspondents with Patton's divisions got a tip a "big shot" Nazi general planned to surrender to escape Himmler's clutches. Nothing happened then.

Here's what happened on the German side:

Von Kluge who succeeded von Rundstedt as commander in the west, was deeply involved in the July 20 plot against Hitler. After the plot's failure, Gen. von Stuepnagel fled to Verdun where he shot himself in the temple and was blinded.

Subsequently von Stuepnagel was arrested in a hospital and was taken to Germany where he killed himself or was executed.

Meantime, von Kluge watched the Gestapo net draw tighter. Hundreds of German officers in France suddenly were missing.

When Rommel was injured in a road-strafing by an Allied plane, von Kluge quit the plot on suspicion von Rundstedt had a hand in a plan aimed at Rommel and von Kluge.

In August his fear turned to panic and von Kluge, convinced Himmler's men would seize him, contacted the Third Army and arranged to surrender.

But word reached Hitler at Welfschanze, East Prussia. Hitler hit the ceiling.

Orders were issued to von Kluge to proceed to Welfschanze. He sensed the fate in store for him. His lifeless body was found slumped in his auto.

Mayor Moves to Keep Air Raid Equipment

Seeking to retain emergency equipment loaned to Boston by the Federal government for air raid defense, Mayor Kerrigan went to Washington today to confer with William M. Haskell, director of Civilian Defense.

Kerrigan said fire fighting and first aid equipment valued at $666,435 was on hand in Boston. He said no replacements could be obtained if the government reclaimed when the OCD expires June 30.

Stilwell Sees War Until 1947

OKINAWA, June 7 (delayed by censor) (AP)—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell says the war with Japan easily could last at least two years longer.

"It is quite possible that we will have to fight in Manchuria," he said, "even after the Jap home islands are conquered."

"Personally I believe it will require ground action in addition to anything done by bombings. I cannot see how, when the Japs are so tenacious individually, we can expect their mass morale to crack."

Dr. Soong Admits He'll Go to Moscow

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Dr. T. V. Soong, premier and foreign minister of China, today officially confirmed reports he would go to Moscow in an effort to improve relations between China and Russia.

Soong called at the State Department today to see Acting Secretary of State Grew.

Motor Meat Shops Solve Cuba Problem

By PHIL CLARKE

HAVANA, June 11 (AP)—If you plan a home-cooked beef dinner in Havana you don't phone the local butcher shop change and join a line at one markets.

It's part of a government-sponsored plan to break up a black market and provide normal supplies of beef. Of course, it eliminates some 340 retail butcher shops, and that's where "the rub" comes in.

Some 2000 butchers and their employees last Tuesday staged a protest in front of the presidential palace. They demanded government price ceilings on beef be lifted to allow them a "living margin of profit." They demanded the sale of beef be returned to legally established merchants and warned the public to stay away from the itinerant butcher shops on wheels.

But consumers took a liking to the plan. They carried home their beef—four pounds of it. When the butchers protested, disorders flared at the palace. One bystander was killed.

But the government has hopes the plan eventually will solve the difficulties in getting meat off the hoof to the frying pan at cooking prices of 22 cents per pound for first, 18 cents for second grade beef.

Government Office of Price Regulation and Supply (ORPA) employees staff the meat trucks in various parts of the city. Each consumer must present the exact amount of money in return for a officially-stamped package of meat.

There are no ration cards to present and depending on the endurance of the buyer he might, of course, stand in line at several trucks.

The government approved the plan as drawn up by the National Ass'n of Cattle Growers, the Union of Cattle Buyers and three Havana slaughterhouses. They proposed the government meet demands by cattle growers for an increase in price paid for beef on the hoof from 6.5 cents a pound to 8 cents.

But the government refused. So it was agreed the middleman—the retail butcher—be eliminated in a simplified producer-to-consumer transaction.

Red Cross to Boost Workers in Pacific

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—American Red Cross workers in creased 150 per cent in the next the Pacific war areas will be in six months. Chairman Basil O'Connor said today.

O'Connor, who returned Saturday from a month-long 20,000-mile inspection tour of Red Cross activities in the Philippine and Pacific areas, said the contemplated increase would boost the total of workers from 2400 to more than 6000.

600 Out to Cast Vote on Strike

NEW BEDFORD, June 11—Refusal of the Edgemoor textile mill management to permit employees to cast votes on company property and time caused a walkout today of 600 first shift workers to cast ballots in an NLRB strike vote.

Antonio Fenech, director of the Textile Workers' Union of America, said second and third shift workers also would report for duty, then walk off the job to vote on whether to strike to enforce demands for five-cent hourly pay increases retroactive to Oct. 1.

England, who charged the management with refusal to permit the strike vote at the plant, said officials wanted the increases retroactive to Nov. 30.

Anti-Closed Shop Law Ruled Legal

TAMPA, Fla., June 11 (AP)—A three-judge federal court held today Florida's anti-closed shop constitutional amendment was not in violation of the federal constitution.

The amendment, adopted by Florida voters last fall, provides that a man shall have the right to work whether he belongs to a labor union or not, and prohibits employers from making union or nonunion affiliation a condition of employment.

Store Man Pulls Gun On E. Boston Customer

Found guilty of brandishing a gun at a customer in his provision store when the latter asked that a cheese purchase be reweighed, Joseph A. Limoli, 60, Putnam st., East Boston, was fined $100 today in East Boston district court.

Disclosure the gun was one which had been stolen last December at the Boston & Albany docks resulted in imposition of an additional fine on a charge of carrying a firearm which was the property of the U. S. Army Ordnance Dept.

Cartoonist Mauldin Praises "Real GI's"

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Returning to America after two years' service overseas, S-Sgt. William H. Mauldin, 27, whose cartoons of battle-hardened GI's won the Pulitzer Prize, told reporters at LaGuardia Field:

"If you really want to find out about the war, talk to a real infantry man—not to characters like me."

The cartoonist, who has 131 discharge points, said he looked forward to seeing his 22-month-old son, Bruce, for the first time. His wife and baby live in East Los Angeles, Cal.

Daniels Hits Peace Draft, Calls for Navy That Flies

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Opposing a peacetime draft, Josephus Daniels, former Navy Secretary, said today "the imperative preparedness of tomorrow is that which will give conquest of the skies."

The 83-year old Raleigh, N. C. newspaper publisher offered the House postwar military policy committee this formula as "the best protection" against the possibility of future attack:

"I would place the main emphasis on a Navy that flies, with adequate military strength on land and sea. . . . I would take leave to be strong in the air. If our country dominates the sky, no enemy can land on any part of our terrain."

The committee is in its second week of hearings on universal military training.

Since there has been no suggestion of the need of a draft to provide personnel to man a large postwar Navy, Daniels said, "the only argument left for the proposal is the need for inductions to make up the land forces."

"At the most there will be need only for a small, compact land force."

"When the time comes to prepare for preparedness, the first step will be to unlearn the methods of the past and discard the archaic drilling, put all cavalry horses to plowing, shut down munitions plants making out-of-date weapons, discard the ancient tactics and strategy long taught in military schools, and look mainly toward the perfection of weapons of the skies."

21 Pupils Win Bond Air Tour

Selected for their achievements as war bond salesmen in the Seventh War Loan drive, 21 Greater Boston school children will be taken on a tour of eastern Massachusetts on Wednesday in a giant airliner, the War Finance Committee announced today.

The youngsters will assemble at the East Boston airport at 3 p. m. Wednesday for a guided tour of the hangars, shops and offices. They will board the plane at 4 o'clock for the one-hour flight.

Individual sales in Massachusetts today mounted to $159,300,000, 67 per cent of the $238,000,000 quota for that category. Included were $68,500,000 in Series E bonds, and $90,800,000 in other sales to persons.

Greater Boston reached 73.1 per cent of its quota with a total of $110,381,000 in individual sales. Series E purchases accounted for $40,801,000 and other sales to individuals totaled $69,580,000.

De Gaulle Given Ovation on Tour

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—Gen. De Gaulle returned to Paris today from a Normandy trip which was intended as an inspection of devastated towns and which developed into a personal triumph.

De Gaulle was mobbed wherever he halted along a route from Caen through Bayeux area. "France is in a difficult position," he said at Alencon, "but she will not always be and the world will learn that it is not sound policy to humiliate her. It will learn that the people of France know what they want."

Hurdling Tanks

Tank Places Girder Bridge in Position
Against Side of Obstacle

Peace—As if they knew the bells of peace have rung in Europe, these cows wander about grazing near an ammunition dump on the road to Isigny in Normandy, where a year ago the belching guns and rumbling tanks broke the centuries old peace.

Tank Trap

Withheld from publication until now, these photos (at left) show how British tanks overcame obstacles through use of portable bridges. The tank placed a girder bridge against the first concrete obstacle, then picked up a spike studded pile of logs, negotiated the ramp and dumped the logs, which cushioned the fall. As each succeeding tank dropped its log pile the cushioning became more complete until the trap was entirely filled.

'PLANNED ECONOMY' On the Side

By E. V. Durling

PUBLIC THINKING would be made much clearer in the United States if the advocates of collectivism would perform a certain act of intellectual honesty.

They should call their unsound proposals by the right names.

Desiring to "make over" our social, economic and political system, the collectivists employ slogans to spread their propaganda; and the slogan that represents the very core of their program is "PLANNED ECONOMY."

The trick in this slogan lies in the word "PLANNED."

It is a decoy word as the collectivists use it.

It can be applied in so many ways, and be given so many constructions, that it enables the collectivists to present an endless number of false and deceptive analogies, and to formulate an incessant chain of meretricious and misleading arguments, without honestly discussing their real philosophy and without avowing their actual purposes.

LET US consider an authentic example, taken from a very "intellectual" treatise which has been exerting its influence in the public schools for the last ten years.

The publication is entitled "SOCIAL CHANGE AND EDUCATION."

On page 17, in a chapter on "The Meaning of Social Change," the book says:

"(1) The Constitution is a PLAN which has endured for more than 140 years.

"Political parties have worked in accordance WITH PLANS set forth in their platforms.

"Business and professional groups have SET UP GOALS toward which they have made steady progress.

"(2) In spite of the notion that 'the least government is the best government,' we have been steadily moving in the direction of the expansion of government functions and controls.

"The time has now arrived when the policy of economic individualism should be supplanted by a policy of conscious SOCIAL PLANNING.

"(3) Education must acquaint this generation with the place of PLANNING in any scheme of national life, and canvass realistically the several competing forms of national life based upon the theory of A PLANNED ECONOMY."

This manner of using the slogan "PLANNED ECONOMY" is very adroit manipulation of words and ideas.

The collectivists want "the government" to "plan" everything—the production of all the farms and factories; the distribution of every article; the job of every worker, including his work hours and his wages; the food rations of every person, the garments of every citizen, the dwelling places of every family, and even the pastimes of every child.

MUCH MORE is involved to make the "plan" successful. Under the "Planned Economy" of the collectivists "the government" would monopolize the press and the radio, telling the entire population what to believe and what to think.

Furthermore, there would have to be oppressive regulation of the people under bureaucratic regulation, with no appeals to independent courts of justice, for "the government" would have to compel everybody either to obey its decrees or else be fined $10,000 or be sent to prison for ten years.

As "Planned Economy" worked out in Fascist Italy, in Nazi Germany and in Communist Russia, free speech became a crime instead of a democratic right, and that is unquestionably the way it would work out here.

Finally, as Winston Churchill says, under such conditions there would have to be a "Gestapo" to watch over the regimented populace, and this would not improbably require concentration camps—though perhaps under the name of PLANNED DETENTION PARKS.

The easy-sounding slogan "Planned Economy" implies all this.

"PLANNED ECONOMY" means "SOCIALIST ECONOMY" and cannot ever mean anything else.

I know how lonely you are.
The long, long days without thee,
But in your letters there'll be joy.
The readings—the replies:
I'll kiss each word that's traced by you.
Upon your truth return.

WHY NOT a good word for apartment houses and hotels that do welcome children and dogs? The celebrated Hotel Huntington, Pasadena, Cal., probably has more kiddies and canines cavorting about its grounds than any hostelry in the country. However, never during a stay there have I been disturbed by a crying child or a barking dog. On the other hand, I have found the sight of the young hopefuls and pups playing around quite inspiring. Gives the hotel that homelike touch. The managing director of the Huntington is Steve Royce, once a state athlete at Hamilton College and also for a time a member of the pitching staff of John McGraw's New York Giants. Steve is a father himself and also the proud possessor of a handsome Irish setter. Hence, his sympathetic understanding of the children and dogs situation.

STARLETS: Promising cinema cuties were once called baby stars. Remember? Sally Rand was a baby star but she grew up to be a fan dancer. Now the Hollywood female neophytes are called starlets. When starting to write this paragraph I was thinking of Maxine Ardell (Mrs. Eugene Morgan), who recently became a mama for the first time. From a list of 912 names, Maxine selected Darleen and Faith for her daughters. An excellent choice. Darleen Faith Morgan is a glamorous eye-appealing name. The young lady will probably never want to change it. That will be unusual. Only one in 50 girls is satisfied with the name her parents wished on her.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q I'll bet you haven't another reader who saw Frank Chance break in as a catcher for Pop Anson's Chicago Colts in 1889. A. You lose. Bill Lange of San Francisco saw Chance break in. Bill was playing the outfield for the Chicago Colts at that time. Q What do you think of Alexis Smith? A. I haven't really done much thinking about Alexis, except that I think she should change her name to Alexandra. She seems to be a nice girl, but is a little tense in her acting at times. She should take relaxation exercises.

PASSING BY: (Clare Boothe Luce. Demurely dynamic Congresswoman. A minister's daughter. Member of the Native Daughters of Manhattan Club. First paying job was as understudy to Mary Pickford in the play "A Good Little Devil," produced by David Blasco. Been married twice, both times to millionaires. Born under sign of Aries. The stargazers say Aries females are unusually intelligent, determined and aggressive, witty, good at repartee and like to dominate the matrimonial scene. Under kind treatment they will soften a little and become clinging vine types for short periods. Lucky day for Aries is said to be Tuesday. Lucky number, nine. Best color to wear, red. Most of this seems to fit Clare, but I don't remember ever seeing her wear a red hat. Nor do I know if she has ever won the daily double by playing nine and nine. As for Tuesday being her lucky day, that seems to check. Election day is on Tuesday. And Clare has never lost out on that day yet.

JEALOUS HUSBAND: Enrico Caruso was so jealous of his wife he never permitted her to dance with another man. That's what Dorothy Caruso, the great tenor's widow, says in her recently written biography of her brilliant husband I have heard of several husbands like that. However, never heard of a wife so jealous she wouldn't permit her husband to dance with another woman. The average wife has trouble enough getting her husband to step out to a dance without trying to tell him who he can dance with.

LONELY PEOPLE: Newark, N. J., does everything possible to take care of its lonely residents. It has an organization called "Introduction." To this, a lonely male or female may apply for aid in securing companionship. One report as to the activities of "Introduction," which is referred to as "a service for sociability," states a man in his forties asked for an introduction to a woman who was photogenic. He said his hobby was photography and he wanted a companion that would look good in a snapshot. He was introduced to a beautiful young and photogenic female who he married shortly after. Some service!

IN THIS VEIN, let me relate a conversation I had a few days ago with an influential executive of a national radio system which has been using a propagandist as a news interpreter. The executive said his broadcaster was just a liberal and not a Communist and added: "You know, a lot of these people think you are a Fascist." "But neither you nor any of those people has ever found my name on the roster of any Fascist organization or found me in association with any Fascist," I said. "On the other hand, this fellow is often identified with many Communist fronts and associates with radicals much of the time." I think anyone who joined or associated with members of Fritz Kuhn's German Nazi Bund deserves to be shunned, suspected and barred from all positions in our government and in the unions.

And because their philosophy and methods have been the same as those of the Nazis, I maintain that we should similarly make outcasts of Communists.

FOR YEARS, Martin Dies was ridiculed and damned as a fool and a Fascist because he was constantly turning up documentary proof that thousands of individuals in and around the Roosevelt government were Communists or easily recognizable fellow-travelers.

Nevertheless, the files of the Dies Committee are a priceless record of names, aliases, associations and conspiracies.

Communism is an American domestic menace and it is none of Russia's business what we do to Communists in our own country.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, June 11—I have come to the conclusion that the only way to deal with the Communists and their fellow-travelers in our country is to treat them just as we have treated our relatively few Nazis, which is to say, rough.

We ought to spot them, shun them, discriminate against them in every possible way and drive them out of every job that they now hold in the public service and in the unions.

The object of that policy would not be to inflict personal hardship on the individuals, although that would be an incidental result, but to destroy the prestige and influence which they were permitted to acquire during 12 years of the New Deal.

The record recalls that President Roosevelt turned Earl Browder out of prison, where he was serving a term imposed under our laws with the explanation that this was done to promote unity.

We don't, or shouldn't, administer justice with any such purpose and, moreover, Browder's release seems to have promoted disunity rather than unity.

It will be remembered, also, that an order for deportation against Browder's wife was circumvented by orders from the White House last year and that she was then permitted to step over the border into Canada and re-enter the United States.

And the Communists were favored again when the Army and Navy both had to abandon their practice of investigating applicants for appointive commissions in the services and dissipate their files on suspected individuals.

Thereafter, as to the Army, at least, a wobbly policy was announced whereby a Communist might get a commission if at the same time he were loyal to the United States.

ON TWO OCCASIONS lately I have discussed the apparent editorial policy of Collier's Weekly magazine which permits that old American publication to run articles by individuals who have long been associated with radical movements without calling the readers' attention to their history.

The standard justification of such editorial policy is familiar to all of us who have participated in the interesting work of exposing Reds during the last ten years.

It is that a free press has an obligation to present all sides of all important questions. That is good American reasoning, but let me ask whether those who invoke it in defense of the publication of the work of radicals or pro-Communists would be equally tolerant if some American magazine should publish pro-Nazi material by an American, but without identifying him as a Nazi?

IN THIS VEIN, let me relate a conversation I had a few days ago with an influential executive of a national radio system which has been using a propagandist as a news interpreter. The executive said his broadcaster was just a liberal and not a Communist and added: "You know, a lot of these people think you are a Fascist." Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 11—No worries for Mickey Rooney when he gets back in the good old U. S. A. While Mickey's been overseas all his affairs have been put in ship-shape for him, and they include, in addition to his M-G-M movies, permission to do a show for Ward Wheelock and Harvey Jones. This all figures up to the pleasant little sum of over a million dollars.

While Mickey's been in Germany, M-G-M gave Johnny Hyde, of the William Morris agency, and Sam Steifel, Mickey's business representative, permission to go ahead with a new show. I am particularly interested in this because my "Hollywood Hotel" stint which lasted four years was a Wheelock project.

Meanwhile, Mickey is hoping against hope that he'll get leave next month when his baby is to be born. I had a letter from him a few days ago in which he told me that his whole life and heart is centered on Mickey Jr.

I HEAR TELL that Joan Blondell has turned the charm on Clark Gable and they have had dinner a couple of nights all by their lonesome. I don't say this is serious because I know Clark has telephoned Anita Colby a number of times while she has been East, but Joan has something of the Carole Lombard quality, and that always intrigues Clark. Meanwhile, M-G-M is buying stories like mad for him. The latest is "Coroner Creek," by Luke Short. It's a Western and three installments have already appeared in a current magazine.

VERA VAGUE, who is darn attractive and more vague than vague, stepped off a plane Sunday to report to Columbia for the mother role in "Snafu." It's the part Mary Astor was supposed to do originally and is important to the picture. When I learned that Robert Benchley is going to play the father, I knew the parents in the movie will be a funny pair—for Vera and Bob are very funny people. She was on tour with Bob Hope in Kansas City when she was paged to be a mother.

WITH THE ARRIVAL in our town of Generals Patton and Doolittle, it is fitting that "Fight for the Sky," a documentary film made in Gen. Doolittle's own department, should be shown us. Gen. Doolittle himself, is pictured directing the course of the bombers. It's perfectly thrilling to see the remarkable strafing of Germany and how our boys, during the last bitter days, bombed at tree-top height. You see every objective as plain as day with on many interceptors destroyed in bursts of flame. Interesting is the addition of confiscated German film in which the Nazis in turn bombed our own bombers. Capt. Ronald Reagan does the commentation. The film was edited here for Gen. Doolittle to see. He had previously seen it in England before it was cut and edited.

NICE TO HEAR that Jess Barker, Susan Hayward's husband, is doing so well at Universal and that he has been given a term contract. He will work at two pictures simultaneously, "As It Was Before" and "Alibi in Ermine." Everyone says Merle Oberon will look awfully pretty in "As It Was Before" with her bridegroom-to-be photographing her. Merle will seek him for all her pictures, because that's how they met—when he was making her beautiful.

IN GERMANY at this very moment is Abe Lasfegol, head of the USO, on a survey of occupied European territory. Abe has been here last Monday on an hour's leave, when the Army asked him to see what entertainment is needed for the boys who must remain in Europe for an indefinite period.

ALL OF US in Hollywood are a great proud of Capt. Dick Grace, former stunt man, who's back home on leave. He received the Purple Heart, the DSC and the Medal of Honor for his bravery in action. He's still in service and is on a leave home from England. Dick arrived just in time to celebrate his seventh wedding anniversary and he was really given a reception at Chumley Foy's when he walked in with Mrs. Grace on his arm.

Boston American, June 11—19

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Actress Fay Meadows and Jean Louisa are keeping the telephones busy. He is boss Merle Oberon's son and Mike Conley, a prominent actor, gathered at the Commodore. Chinese Theatre owner Memphis Ward, a sentimental fellow, put a wreath of roses on Jean Louisa's forehead. She had bought her papers from him for many years. Ruth Hutton's next door to Betty's boss, Buddy De Sylva. Late news says that Buddy, who was so critically ill, is improving. Dolores Del Rio has broken her engagement to Galileo, the bull fighter, and he's gone back to his native Spain; Ruth Hussey and M-G-M will have a get-together soon to arrange a mutual parting deal.

PAULETTE GODDARD donned a Mexican outfit to help her friend, Jinx Falkenburg, put over the new show. Lots of people dropped in, among them Florence Pratt, carrying a new gold lighter Bob Walker has just given her. Florence is staying out here and, of course, Bob is the attraction. Bob Orr and Phil Lamm were the guests of honor at a small dinner for 10 which Margaret Livingston gave them. They left for home Friday after completing plans with Jim Andrews for a new "Hollywood Mystery" show. Constance Moore and Doris O'Connor are the new stars; Lynn Lynn gets back today from her camp tour. While in New York Capt. Norman Miller was her steady; Dorothy Gish accompanied by her mother, as in town today, she'd report to 20th for "Centennial Summer"; Ernst Lubitsch couldn't be happier. His little daughter, Nicola, is spending the summer with him.

WASHINGTON, June 11 — Mrs. Iuez Robb, the peerless and fearless lady

Sen. Johnson said he hadn't seen a trend in weeks, but would be glad to let her know if one happened by. The conversation worked around to the San Francisco conference—from which Mrs. Robb has just come—and, before she knew it, the situation had been reversed and she was being interviewed by Sen. Johnson.

The lawmaker asked what she thought of the many Russian demands. Mrs. Robb hunched up her three-ply beaver petticoats and fixed the solon-

SEN. JOHNSON merely sat there and looked judicial. But next day he held a press conference. Mrs. Robb read the

"The Russians," Sen. Johnson was quoted as informing the assembled press, "apparently have no room for 'compromise.' But the one thing they do know is to 'trade'— and went on to rebuff Mrs. Robb almost word for word."

THE MORAL of this seems to be: Don't tell nothing to a Senator unless you want it blabbed all over.

Maybe one of these days newspapermen will find themselves saying: "Remember, this is off the record, Senator."

LT. JULIUS EDELSTEIN, aide to Admiral Leahy, entered a gathering the other day looking very military and erect. Two dames spotted him and the following bewildering dialogue ensued:

Second Dame: "No — he's Leahy's aide."

First Dame: "You mean he's a member of the Leahy's anti society?"

THERE IS a fellow writing for a magazine I was thinking of suing for stealing my stuff but I looked again and saw it was I. This absolutely idiotic fellow at must be a screen artist to be with him has this item in the current issue:

I P L L V. I have had occasion to be paid to remark upon the condition and often the condition of the employed by the government, a clear statement of the State Department.

One still sees galleries, on site of the art of embroidery, and into a discussion with Rep. Luther A. Johnson of Texas, the other day. The diplomat was a very close friend of Rep. Johnson is a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and the first thing they heard of the diplomat was to be a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The conversation finally showed signs of petering out and Rep. Johnson asked the diplomat how he had been feeling lately. The diplomat replied he had been having trouble with his

"Your liver?" echoed Johnson, pretending to be aghast. "You mean your pate de foie gras, don't you?"

MONDAY MUSINGS: Second-guessing Joe Cronin, the Red Sox manager, would seem to be an ill-natured move in the face of the Yankees' fine showing of 1-0 wins. But pitcher Dave Ferris, the Golden Boy of the Gold Sox, was described by the Army as "a man of automatic emotion." Ferris recommended that the Yankees' ace pitcher, Noodles, be sent to the "hot" day climate, while Ferris himself would be sent to the "cold" climate.

NEITHER CRONIN nor Ferguson showed alibis for the pitcher's inept game against the Athletics, when Dave was tagged for 14 hits—(while winning) . . . Dave lost to the Yankees Sunday, although his 7-0 effort was good enough to win ordinarily . . . Our point is that fog and a mild drizzle make the New York climate yesterday the worst possible conditions for an asthmatic . . .

And the day the Athletics played on David was rainy and wet.

MR. FERRISS himself certainly is offering no alibis . . . With his 8 won, 1 lost record, he doesn't need to apologize . . . It will be interesting, nevertheless, to study how he is affected by the weather when he works . . . You can bet the price-makers working for the professional gamblers will take it in consideration in determining the odds.

MORE MUSINGS: A small paragraph in this space two years ago, believe it or not, has had a disproportionate influence on Massachusetts politics . . . From a source which common-sense dictated must be credited, we learned that the then-Mayor Maurice J. Tobin had applied (and was being favorably considered) for an Army commission as an officer of AMG (American Military Government).

The item in this column blossomed into front page "streamers" before the day's crop of editions came from the city's presses . . . Washington didn't like the "premature" publicity, and this worked against the mayor's chances of becoming a lieutenant-colonel . . . The matter dragged along and eventually came to nothing . . . The Army, meantime, had confirmed the story . . . Mayor Tobin was not pleased about it.

WE TAKE TIME to muse about Gov. Tobin's present reaction to the "break" . . . Ha-

I haven't learned to swim yet—but I'm coming along beautifully with my instructor!"

Tomato Dumplings Just Grand With Your Stew

By MARTHA LEE

A GOOD STEW is good eating, no matter what the weather. And stews belong in summer menus this year, especially, because they may be made with almost any of the low-point cuts of meat—cuts which need long, slow cooking with moisture to make them tender and delicious. Stew is a very flexible dish. It may be varied in as many ways as there are different vegetables to go with the meat, different seasonings and herbs to give their characteristic flavor, and different tricks of serving the finished dish. Recipes may be altered and adjusted to use the meat most readily available.

MENU

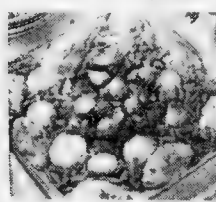

Summertime Stew with Tomato Dumplings.
Orange Mint Salad.
Assorted Breads.
Butter or Margarine.
Baked Chocolate Pudding with Cream.
Coffee.

The slow recipe given here may be made with either veal or lamb. For a veal stew—use the shoulder, breast, shank, heart, or kidney of veal. For a lamb stew—use the shoulder, breast, neck, heart or kidney of lamb. Have the meat cut into uniform cubes.

To make it a seasonable dish, use the fresh vegetables that are plentiful. The tender young ones from your own garden will taste best of all—not only because they're fresher-than-fresh, but for the simple reason that you planted, cultivated, and tended them yourself.

STEW WITH TOMATO DUMPLINGS

2 lbs. lean lamb or veal, cut in cubes 3 cups water

Summertime Stew

1 tsp. drippings
4 small onions, whole
1 cup cut green beans (or marrow)
1 tsp. salt

1/4 tsp. pepper
Tomato dumplings
Parsley and paprika

Brown meat in hot fat. Season with salt and pepper. Add water, cover tightly, and simmer until meat is tender (about 2 hours). Add prepared vegetables about 30 minutes before meat is done. About 12 minutes before serving, drop tomato dumplings on top of meat and vegetables, cover and cook for 12 minutes without removing cover. Remove stew to hot platter, arranging vegetables around the meat. Garnish with parsley, sprinkle dumplings with paprika. (New potatoes, small whole carrots, or green peas may be used in addition to, or in place of the vegetables suggested.)

Here are two reminders, many times repeated but still worth mentioning. When making a stew: (1) Be sure to simmer the meat, do not boil it; low temperature gives the best results in flavor and tenderness; (2) do not overcook the vegetables, keep them just on the crisp side; they'll be more attractive, more nutritious, and taste better.

Incidentally, do try the tomato dumplings; they're something different in the dumpling line, and very tasty. A mighty good meat extender—as, of course, you know!

TOMATO DUMPLINGS

1 1/2 cups sifted flour 1 egg
1 tsp. salt 1 tsp. shortening
1 tsp. baking powder 1/2 cup tomato juice

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Beat egg until light, add melted shortening and tomato juice. Combine liquid with flour, stirring only until flour disappears.

Costs Nothing

Poiteness costs nothing. It is not rationed, nor will it ever be. And yet it pays the highest dividends, both to the giver and to the receiver.

—MRS. BECKMAN.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

IN TIMES such as these . . . we're all hanging on to brand names and the qualities we may expect from them, with dogged determination. And that's as it should be . . . because the brands that prosper and stay in business are the ones that maintain qualities and values, year in and year out . . . and identify their merchandise proudly. That's really the thought which dictates today's column.

At one time or another . . . most of us have had one precious bottle of this world-famous perfume . . . and we've loved it and treasured it. Even with the war over . . . we're not apt to find much of the perfume anywhere . . . but did you know that lipstick, cream rouge and face powder . . . styled by this cosmetic internationalist . . . every bit as fine as his immutable perfume in their way . . . are also available?

FAMOUS FOR YEARS

You'll take to these make-up items as you would for beautiful blue mink . . . green orchids . . . a handtooled binding on a book . . . for they are the cream of the crop yet not so frightfully expensive for the quality they offer and the beauty they assure.

The lipsticks, for instance, have been famous among chic women for years and years. I grew up under the halo of its beauty and exquisite importance for outstanding smartness. And, too, the creator was the first manufacturer to make a lipstick. It was created to satisfy the demands of the ladies of the Court of Napoleon, the third. They wanted a pomade that would tint the lips and keep them soft at the same time. Previously, they had used a stain . . . which was applied surreptitiously in the privacy of the boudoir. And how well the demands of those royal beauties were satisfied.

STERLING TRIO

The lipsticks are just lovely enough to give protection and a dewy look . . . yet the color has remarkable tenacity. There's a full palette of colors from which to use and I'm certain you'll find your preference. For me . . . the Cartlaya shade in lipstick . . . and cream rouge, if you use it . . . is the freshest, youngest and imaginable. Perfect to give a lush blooming look . . . and with the blue shade of face powder to go with it . . . you'll be a picture any artist would want to paint!

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, SUNDAY.—Because I mentioned American Communists in my last column, it does not mean that I think they are the only group guilty in helping prepare for war rather than peace. It is not hard to recognize Fascist groups in this country, even though they do not call themselves Fascists, but it is not easy to recognize some of the other forces that pull us apart internally.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN was courageous and wise to come out in favor of the Fair Employment Practices bill, giving all an equal opportunity to earn a living without discrimination.

Yet there are those who will fight this measure. They talk about freedom and democracy as though it belonged only to them. They forget that every time we deny freedom and democracy to any group, we serve notice on people in other parts of the world that they cannot be sure that we would concede them the right to freedom and democracy if they differed from us in any particular.

I RODE with a taxi driver the other day, and his thesis went something like this: We will not get rid of war in the world until the peoples' hearts change, and they are willing that nobody should starve. Everyone should be able to work and have some assurance that they will eat and have some shelter.

We will find opposition from some people to this minimum assurance of security. They are dangerous because they hide behind such phrases as "Free Enterprise" and "The Rights of Individuals."

This opposition will claim that they are dealing only with domestic issues. What they are really doing is to serve notice on the world that we haven't yet grown up to the acceptance of responsibility for the rights of human beings.

SNOW WHITE for summer crispness can be mighty smart . . . especially when it is a suit like this . . . featuring a beautifully-cut jacket that fastens with a string tie at the natural waistline and glorifies simplicity to the nth degree. Note that the gilet, revers and softly-draped turban are of brown and white checked gingham . . . but dramatically accented with tiny gold sequins to make you and your getup a sparkling fashion plate. Warner star Alexis Smith models the Milo Anderson design.—R. M.

Express Appreciation

Appreciation is the morale vitamin. It makes people happy, stimulates their spirits, brightens their hearts. We all thrive on it. "Well done" is well said.—MRS. BECKMAN.

The Princess Swim Suits Smart

By BETTINA BEDWELL

Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

USHERS' DUTIES—The ushers arrive at the church at least a half hour before the ceremony time.

Ushers ask arriving guests: "Bride or bridegroom?" and seat them accordingly, the bride's people on the left and the bridegroom's people on the right side of the middle aisle.

HEADLINES for beach styles go all out for the exposures of flesh that are sensational, but I wish to report that there are fine swim suits for those who shrink from this kind of thing. Much quieter but just as chic are Princess swim suits, made of satin and charming to look at.

One of these is sketched. It is designed by Frances Sider, and is made of white satin, cut on Princess lines, with a draped top. With the suit Miss Durkin has sketched a new bathing cap from a du Pont fabric called "Parhite" which is Navy reject life-raft sailcloth, which is very flexible and soft.

This model is made of pure silk, coated in reversible blue and gold, and you can wear it in different ways, if you're a good draper. It makes a fine rain turban, too, to go with your raincoat.

Gen. Patton proved wot a grand

Gardens Due To Pick Up

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head Vegetable Gardening Dept., Suffolk
County Agricultural School and Director of the Boston Board American Advertising Garden in Boston Commons.

Some gardeners may have noticed that their crops wilt slightly on clear days. This is caused right now by the fact that seedling plants, as well as set plants, were unable to send out roots during the wet spell. Some warm, dry weather will stimulate root development and plants will grow accordingly.

For some reason new gardeners are told, or develop the idea that it is harmful to pull weeds when it is clear and dry. From a weed control standpoint, that is the best time to pull them, as the sun will kill the weeds if they are left on the ground. The only time that it is harmful to pull weeds is when they have been allowed to grow so big that the row crop is loosened when the weeds are pulled.

Pull weeds carefully, be sure to get the root and shake all the soil from the roots to insure full control.

Keep in mind that weeds use up moisture and plant food, harbor insects and disease and crowd out your cultivated crop. Control them when they are small and avoid hard labor and loss of time.

COLONIAL — "THE WIND IS NINETY" — Capt. Ralph Nelson's National Conference Theater prize-winning play with Blanche Yurka, Wendell Corey, Bert Lytell and Frances Reid, continues through Saturday night.

PLYMOUTH — "OH BROTHER!" — Jacques Deval's new play with Hugh Herbert and Arleen Whelan, enters its final week tonight under auspices of the new producing firm of Maximilian Becker and Peter Warren, John Mitchell, Catherine Doucet, Forrest Orr and Susana Garnett are featured players.

SHUBERT — "GOOD NIGHT, LADIES" — with Skeets Gallagher, Stanley Bell and some tersely logged teases, is now in its 11th week here and threatening to make it a goodbye week very soon.

June 18

COLONIAL — "SNAFU" — the comedy of post-Army life by novel writers Louis Lomax and Harold Busman, revolves around a 16-year-old boy who is discharged from service because of his youth after becoming lieutenant of a hero South Pacific combat. Healing cast are Matthew Smith, Marie Paxton, Paul Smith, Jack Clark, Janet Ward, Martin Scott, Tom Morrison, Paul Byron, John Adams in the war, means "Snafu" journal, all staged up.

REACTS HALL — "HER CARDBOARD OVER" — starring Diana Barrymore in the Jacques Deval comedy, will be the Cambridge Summer Theater's second production in its season.

June 19

SHUBERT — "MARINKA" — latest production by Maximilian Becker and Peter Warren, is a new romantic musical based on the Slavonic theme. With the redoubtable story of a prince and a commoner, Joan Roberts will appear in title role with Jerry Wayne as the prince.

I SINCERELY HOPE THAT IN THE TOO-BRIEF TIME YOUR PLAY "THE WIND IS NINETY" REMAINS AT THE COLONIAL EVERYONE WILL MAKE AN EFFORT TO SEE IT.

CONGRATULATIONS FOR A POWERFUL AND INSPIRING PLAY WHICH MOVED ME MORE DEEPLY THAN ANY OTHER PLAY I CAN RECALL.

Sincerely,
HELEN EAGER

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—I am divorced from my husband, who is in the service. We have three children. They are receiving allotments. I plan to re-marry soon. Will it affect their allotments? B. C. Boston.

A—Children will continue to receive allotments, totaling $82 monthly. First child receives $42, and the remaining two $20 each.

Q—I was honorably discharged from the Army and character was given on papers as "excellent." I served in the Army 11 months and 4 days. Am I entitled to Good Conduct ribbon? T. L., Hyde Park.

A—Service during wartime must be one year to be eligible for Good Conduct ribbon. Three years during peacetime.

Q—I have a son in the Pacific area with a supply outfit. Although he is not with a combat unit, will he be credited with overseas points? Y. P., Boston.

A—Yes, he will be given one extra point for each month overseas, regardless of non-combatant status.

Q—To whom should a friend of mine write regarding release from service of her only boy, who is needed at home because she is invalid? Her other son was recently killed in action. M. D., Winthrop.

A—She may contact local Red Cross Chapter, Home Service Bureau, in Winthrop, for procedure and recommendations, provided the case is worthy of further action.

Q—How soon must a veteran of this was apply for a loan guaranty? W. B. Billerica.

A—He may apply within two years after separation from military or naval service, or within two years after the termination of the war, whichever is the later date, but in no event more than five years after termination of war.

Q—I am divorced from my husband and have been receiving Family Allowance for our child, $12 a month. I have learned that he is to marry again; will the payments for our child be discontinued? K. G. Milton.

A—No, it will not be discontinued but it will be reduced to $10; $12 is paid for one child when no payment is made to a wife; with the addition of a wife the child is entitled to $20 a month.

$101 Double at Suffolk Race Meet Inaugural

By JACK CONWAY

KING HORSE returned to Massachusetts today as Suffolk Downs opened its 54-day meeting. Some 20,000 persons were on hand for the eight-race program headed by the Governor's Handicap over the one-mile distance.

Gov. Maurice J. Tobin attended a buffet luncheon in the Padock Club at the track. He was to see the running of the Governor's Handicap from the stewards' stand and later present the Governor's Plate, an annual award, to the winning owner.

Racing has been having its most successful season in all parts of the country. New records in mutual handles have been established in New York and Rhode Island, and it is believed that boom days in the sport of kings will continue through the Suffolk Downs meeting.

Allan Wilson, president of Suffolk Downs, and Eddie Goode, treasurer, have the East Boston racing plant all dolled up for the opening. They will do everything possible to furnish the best in racing and to make the public comfortable at the races.

Wilson and Goode will witness the races from their new office on the roof of the clubhouse where they will be able to see everything that happens on the track and keep in touch with the other operations at the East Boston plant.

There were several different groups striving to win the Governor's Handicap. Toolmaker, Rocket Gal and Salup were to run as the Miss Ruth Howie and W. A. Coleman entry, while Side Boy, winner of one section of the $750 Blackstone Handicap at Narragansett Park on Saturday, and Cavatorta were the Mrs. Weston V. Adams' entry.

Other horses entered were Val-jona Craft, Dinner Party, Mixer, Chain Miss, Broke Even and One-bill, but Broke Even and Chain Miss were scratched this a. m.

Track Superintendent Joe Tomassello declared that the track has been put into the best possible condition for the race. It was hoped that track conditions would be good at 2:30 p. m., post time for the first race, which went to Wheat, but track conditions were away off for the test.

Retain Rich Stakes

DESPITE THE fact it was obliged to curtail its racing season owing to the late lifting of the racing ban, Suffolk Downs has retained its rich stakes. There will be the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap, $25,000 Yankee Handicap, $25,000 Mayflower Stakes and $10,000 Hannah Dustin Handicap. Racing Secretary Charley McLennan has set the dates of these races so that they will not conflict with races for similar classes of horses at other tracks.

It is believed that the great interest in racing this year will justify Allan Wilson and his associates setting up so many rich purses.

THE SUFFOLK DOWNS card will be run off so that the eighth race will go to the post about 6 p. m. Racegoers will be able to get back to the city at a reasonable hour.

There will be direct street car service to the track, while the auto parking lots will be opened.

Lou Boudreau Faces Second Draft Exam

CLEVELAND, June 11 (AP)—Lou Boudreau, 27-year-old short-stop-manager of the Indians, will report at induction station here tomorrow for his second draft exam within a year.

He was classified 4-F last summer because of an arthritic condition in his ankles. He expects to rejoin the club in time for the opener of a three-game series with the White Sox tomorrow night.

COAST FOOTBALL WEIGHED SPOKANE, Wash., June 11 (AP)—Football, a casualty in the Pacific Coast Conference, appeared on its way back today as Conference members began discussion of a 1945 schedule, at the opening of a two-day meeting here.

Tender Greeting—A hearty hug is given Miss Jane Graves, a cousin of Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., by the famous commander of the U. S. Third Army, at a reception in his honor at Pasadena, Cal., attended by his many relatives in that area. The general led a Sunday school class of children in singing hymns earlier.

Himmler's Nest Egg—101st Airborne Division troops examine paper currency from 26 nations, valued at approximately $4,080,000, which was found buried under a barn near Berchtesgaden, where it had been placed by Heinrich Himmler. AP Wirephoto

Welcome Home, Soldiers—Pvt. Helen Bloom of Brighton and PFC Clementine Mercier bridge the last remaining inches between returning soldiers and the United States as they reach out to give the veterans, many of them liberated prisoners of war, a hearty handshake. The WACs were on hand to greet the nearly 3000 soldiers who arrived at the Army Base today. INP by Harry Almond
